DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

1. Claims 1-4 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

In claims 1 and 2, the term 'different' is vague and indefinite. Particularly if one considers the microscopic level, virtually every ratio would be "different".

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless -

- (b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.
- 2. Claim 1 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Canary (EP 0 488 727 A).

Canary's invention relates to paperboard products in the form of sheet materials formed of polyolefins and wood fiber (page 2, column 1, lines 1-3). Canary discloses a paperboard comprising a ply having two layers, the first layer is formed of a mixture of polyolefin fibers and long fiber softwood pulp, the quantity of polyolefin fiber being less than the quantity of wood pulp fiber in the mixture (the 'low polyolefin' layer), and the second layer formed of a mixture of polyolefin fibers and long fiber softwood pulp, the quantity of polyolefin fiber being greater than the quantity of wood pulp fiber (the 'high polyolefin' layer), wherein said layers are superimposed on one another and bonded together to form a single ply (page 2, column 1, lines 6-16).

Claim 1 lacks novelty.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

- (a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negatived by the manner in which the invention was made.
- 3. Claims 2-4 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over NITTO DENKO CORP (XP002112333 & JP 02 151427) in view of Canary (EP 0 488 727 A).

NITTO DENKO's invention relates to a masking tape. The reference discloses that a thin porous sheet paper made of beaten wood pulp and short synthetic fiber is impregnated with rubber and/or synthetic resin (Abstract, page 1, lines 1-6). The reference also discloses the advantage of having different amount of impregnated rubber and/or resin at the front and rear surfaces to yield different densities to provide mechanical strength on one side and better compatibility for coating on the other side

Application/Control Number: 09/647,748 Page 4

(Abstract, page 1, lines 17-21). The thin porous sheet is used as a base film for masking, and the adhesive tape is capable of being released from the surface without tearing and breaking (Abstract, page 1, lines 23-24 and page 2, line 1).

NITTO DENKO shows all the features of the instant claimed invention except the use of a two-layer paper backing with different layer mechanical strength such as the one taught by Canary's patent. As such, in the absence of unexpected results, it would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to replace the backing of DITTO DENKO's adhesive sheet with Canary's two-layer paper, motivated by the different mechanical strengths in the two layers for improved release property without tearing and breaking, and by the expectation of success imparted by the teachings of the prior art.

4. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. In addition, the following references are cited of interested for making masking adhesive tape:

US 5204173 to Canary

US 4212703 to D'Amico et al.
